Windham Receives Commission In ROTC Ceremonies

Seventy-three Auburn University graduating seniors received their commissions in joint ceremonies by Army, Navy, and Air Force ROTC prior to commencement June 5.

Adm. Thomas H. Moor-er, Chief of the U.S. Naval Operations, administered the oath to the young officers during ceremonies held in Langdon Hall. Auburn President Harry M. Philpott was the speaker.

Receiving the commission from this area: Samuel Joseph Windham, Elba, commissioned second lieutenant U. S. Air Force Reserve.

A contract of more than $29 million has been awarded to the Page Aircraft Maintenance, Inc., involving about 3,000 employees at Ft. Rucker and Ft. Stewart, Ga.

The contract was let to the Lawton, Okla., firm for one year with options for two one-year periods. Page has been performing maintenance work at Ft. Rucker since 1964.

The Page contract includes maintenance of about 1,100 rotary and fixed wing aircraft located both at Ft. Rucker and the Army Aviation School Element at Ft. Stewart.

Four bidders competed for the contract.

Allen Leading In State Senate Race

Blue Barber To Speak At Boys State

Blue Barber, a native of Troy, will deliver the commencement address to the American Legion's 31st annual Boys State Friday morning at Troy State University. Mr. Barber has long been active in Legion and young peoples work and will challenge the more than 600 young men during the commencement address.

Judy Scarbrough To Attend Girls State

Judy Scarbrough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Scarbrough, of Elba, has been selected by the American Legion Ladies Auxiliary to attend the annual Girls State at Huntingdon College, in Montgomery. The week-long event will be held from June 9th through 15th.

Judy will be a senior at Elba High School next year and is representing Culver Post 42 of the American Legion Auxiliary.

She is a member of the Whitewater Baptist Church, FFA, Math Club, Jr. Music Club, Band, (drum majorette), Secretary and President of Science Research Club and participated in the Junior Play.

Retail Trade Increases 11% Over '66 Total

The Alabama Retail Trade newsletter, published by the School of Commerce and Business Administration, University of Alabama provides some interesting notes about 'who is buying what and where they are buying it.'

In comparing 1967 with 1966 the figures reveal that Coffee County retail sales increased 11.6% while the state average was only 2.1%. Retail sales increased in Coffee County from over 35 million to over 39 million and represented 9.10% of the total statewide sales.

In Coffee County, food sales increased over 1 million dollars while Automotive sales increased one and one-half million over 1966. The largest percentage increase was Eating places, which increased their volume 23.2% over the previous year.

Showing decreased sales were general stores and the hardware farm implement groups.

Legion Will Meet
Tonight In
Courthouse Annex

Members of Culver Post #42 of the American Legion and Ladies Auxiliary are urged to attend the regular monthly meeting which will be held Thursday night (tonight) at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held at the Courthouse Annex. A covered dish supper will be served.

Final plans will be made for the horse show to be held in Elba on July 6th.

LITTLE LEAGUE REPORT

PORK is HEALTHY

Cross Trails Administrator Attends Workshop

The administrator for the Cross Trails Regional Library Service, George G. Johnson, has received notice that he has been accepted by Florida State University to attend a two-week workshop sponsored by FSU July 15-26. The institute will be on institutional library services and will try to show how library services to institutions within the area can be improved.

The institute is limited to 30 librarians from the southeastern states. Lecturers and consultants will be faculty members of Florida State University, Maryland State Department of Education and New York State Library.

Elba Lions Club To Push Air Conditioning

The Elba Lions Club, under the direction of Dr. M. V. Miles, president for the past year, has resorted its determination to see that the Elba High School auditorium is equipped with air conditioning. The Lions raised one thousand dollars which was donated to the school for this purpose several months ago, with the idea of letting the school complete the project from there.

The school board is facing the prospect of financing the construction of a new gym and therefore cannot afford this six thousand dollar expenditure. The five-man committee formed by the Lions to raise the original money has undertaken the job of contacting the other clubs of Elba, the merchants, business people and public to raise the additional money for this worthwhile project.

Members of the Lions Club committee are Ben Brock, Flournoy Whitman, Olen Bailey, Leroy Miller and Wayland Sharpless.

Many public activities are held in the auditorium, summer and winter, and it is the feeling of many people that it will be in the interest of the public to take on the project of air conditioning the Elba High School Auditorium.

AN EDITORIAL WE SHUDDER

In the past we have laughed at the pessimist who were trying to tell us of the deplorable condition of our country and the entire world but today we shudder with them.

The shooting Tuesday night of one of the leading presidential candidates, Robert Kennedy, brother of the late John Kennedy, has us looking hard for traces of the American we have read about in our history books.

We believe NOW is the time for steps to be taken to return the United States to the principals upon which our country was founded. If constitutional amendments are necessary, surely the two-thirds ratification by the fifty states could be gotten, even without the customary lobbying and letter writing.

We will not wave our banners and demand that the "other fellow" do something but we will be listening for suggestions as to what we can do in these trying times.

This was worded much better by the late John F. Kennedy who said, "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country." These words have never been more appropriate than they are today.

Youth Choir Receives Wide Acclaim

The Youth Choir of the First Baptist Church has and in another, "This was returned from its week-long concert tour amid a flood of flattering compliments. People in every town that heard this outstanding group have written or called telling how much the choir was enjoyed in their church.

Quotes from some of the letters include: "Congratulations... I have heard so many good comments about the service most Christian manner and the singing... I was certainly left a deep impression with the conduct of the young people here."

THE YOUTH CHORUS of the Elba First Baptist Church has returned from a concert tour of sacred music and it is wonderful the reception they received everywhere they went.

The choir under the direction of Nelson A. Liles with Mrs. Percy Collier as accompanist, has grown to a total of forty members. The choir sings regularly for church services on all Sunday mornings and two Sunday evenings each month as well as on special occasions. The tour they visited on tour included Montgomery, Birmingham, Huntsville, Greenville, Spartanburg, and Columbia, South Carolina. The choir members were the privilege of singing to Alabama Governor Albert Brewer while touring the State Capitol. They sang in the Capitol dome in a circle at the request of the Governor and other state officials.

I join all of Elba in congratulating to the members of the Youth Chorus and rejoice in their wonderful accomplishment.

It will always be doubtful as to if Oswald was actually the man who shot President Kennedy. It will always be a question as to if a conspiracy existed all these shootings and if so there is no question but that they will be others.

President Johnson has been threatened so much that his freedom is something of the past. He has to be completely surrounded by a tight security guard every moment.

George Wallace has been threatened according to reports, as have all other figures who are prominent in the political circles of the national scene. At this time he is apparently the safest of those in the national scene but he may be in more danger than he can realize, also.

I know what it looks like is happening but not knowing and because it could threaten some and not be believed by others I would not write words, and I am so would not stop what is happening anyway.

But for the moment it looks as if life is not worth much. But let us live it the very best we can and let us have compassion for our neighbors, our friends, relatives and even for our families.

ACCORDING TO A release from Industrial News Review, Sweden is the highest taxed nation in Europe. This country is trying mightily hard to get on a level with them, apparently.

Sweden is considered an advanced welfare state. In Sweden, the government "takes care" of you from birth to death.

But the bill for this kind of care comes high, according to the Industrial News release. Those who live in the relation

There was a lady who came to the United States not too long ago. Her coming caused quite a stir among some people here. Some people welcomed her and some cursed her upon her arrival. But regardless of what people thought about her she set her mind to come to this country and did so.

She had to slip away from her native country. Had the authorities there known she was planning to come here they would have certainly put a stop to it. And her coming almost endangered her family and friends in the country she left behind.

There are some interesting things about this lady that the ordinary person doesn't normally possess. First, she was a member of the aristocracy of the country she left behind. And she had, according to the standards, a "good" life where she was. Also, she left behind a son, 21, and a daughter, 15.

This lady left her country, strangely enough, because of her religious beliefs. She said she came to seek "freedom of expression" for herself. The "expression" she wanted to exercise was stated by her in these words: "When I became a grown-up person I found it impossible to exist without God in my heart."

Only 21% of the voters in Beat 6 (Elba) went to the Polls. Allen led in Coffee County with 1800 votes to Selden's 1384.

Mrs. Vaughan Receives

Outstanding Performance Rating

MRS. VAUGHAN

Job improvement suggestions and outstanding service brought recognition to 23 Ft. Rucker personnel.

Receiving a Sustained Superior Performance Award of $100 was Earnest H. Hawkins, New Brockton, Outstanding Performance Ratings and Quality Increases (pay increases) went to Mrs. Edward A. Ewell, New Brockton while Outstanding Performance Ratings were earned by Mrs. Peggy R. Jeter, New Brockton, and Mrs. Charles F. Vaughan of Elba.

Some of our people in the United States want more security, but the security of the welfare state is not free as some seem to believe. Moreover, it is provided at the expense of liberty, for certainly there can be little liberty where people have lost the power of decision over their productive efforts.

Today's Teen-agers account for more than five and one-half million drivers. Most car owning teen-agers got their own - did not get it as a gift. Almost half the seventeen-year-old boys have one, while 81% of the other non-owning teens have plans to buy. For want of money, the used car outsells the new by a wide margin - accounting for the high degree of automobile mechanical knowledge. According to automobile authorities, the used car market is the potential for being the best drivers on the road. What they need is proper education plus experience plus assistance.

Sound judgment he said, stems from hard work and desire. "Good judgment can only come from experience and experience is the product of time and action," he added.

The Look Of Summer

Spring's romantic fashion fling hasn't melted with the summer heat, but it has taken a more sophisticated turn. Femininity is still the prevailing theme for summer, but the gimmicky frills that characterized much of early spring fashion have given way to more subtle expressions. The look of summer '68 is fluid, skirts float, drape, and swirl... necklines plunge... and belts circle the waist or move higher to become an integral part of the silhouette.

Hemlines remain short, ranging from the top of the knee to four inches above in the better collections. The exception is in late day and evening wear, where the midi emerges as the most romantic look of the season.

White is the predominant color.

BELTS go high and wide for summer.

THE HEMLINE in the fashion headlines for late day and evening is the midi.

Changes Entitle Widows To GI Home Loans

Recent changes in the G. I. home loan program should make it easier for thousands of unmarried widows to get G. I. home loans, Nellie H. Smart, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Montgomery, announced recently.

A new law permits the VA to guarantee home loans up to $12,500 of the loan amount but not more than 60% of the loan, Smart added. The higher ceiling on G. I. loan interest rates that went into effect recently should help these widows to get a G. I. loan from a commercial lending institution, he said.

Many eligible widows and husbands who served in World War II, under current legislation, they still have more than two years to obtain a G. I. loan until July 25, 1970.

Entitlement for qualified widows of men who served during the Vietnam era -- or any time after January 31, 1955 -- will have their eligibility expire:

- (a) 20 years from the date of the veteran's death in service.
- (b) 20 years from the date of the veteran's discharge, or
- (c) March 3, 1976 -- whichever is later.

Smart said that veterans' widows who think they qualify for G. I. loans should obtain further information from the VA office at Montgomery, phone 263-7521.

Staff Sergeant Marion C. Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Bryant of R. 4, Elba, is on duty at Bien Hoa AB, Vietnam.

Central & Southeast Alabama Exemplify Southern Living Of Years Ago

Close your eyes! Visualize the antebellum South. Chances are you "saw" large oaks shading winding paths to a large, graceful mansion, "heard" steamboat whistles and rhythmic chants of slaves unloading cargoes at the wharves. Maybe you saw clouds of battles between the Blue and the Grey.

Maybe your mental picture of all this comes from stories told to you by your grandmother who heard them from her father or grandfather who was there. But what about the children you know? Can they form these vivid images as we did in an age known to them for outer space travel?

Central and southeast Alabama provide many chances for them to see examples of southern living as it was over a hundred years ago.

MAGNOLIA GROVE in Greensboro is located on state routes 14 and 69. This antebellum mansion was once the home of Admiral Richmond Pearson Hobson, hero of the Merrimac. It is furnished with original antiques and contains many historic souvenirs brought here by Admiral Hobson from his trips to foreign countries.

The incredibly beautiful mansion "GAINESWOOD," at Demopolis, incorporates the exceptional features of three classical orders of architecture, a mirrored hall, a ballroom, a dining and music room with domed ceilings, and a round, gallery bedroom. The round once seated musicians for elaborate garden parties.

home filled with fine antique and engravings of original paintings. It is easily reached by Alabama highways 41 or 10.

In Selma, STURDIVANT HALL AND MUSEUM is a complete page from the past. The classic architecture is well complemented by the furnishings and displays inside. Cooking utensils, linens and even china dolls so well preserved their original clothes are intact make it seem quite possible for a family of the 1850's to once more move into it.

For a change of scene from history to recreation, Alabama offers a giant playground for young and old at Alexander City. The National Peanut Festival is a week of fun, complete with beauty pageants, parades, hot air balloons, famous entertainers, and an old-fashioned county fair with even a "greasy pig" contest.

Up to now we've made quick visits to a lot of different places throughout central and southeast Alabama. It's time to return to our original theme—the grace and dignity of the Old South. Montgomery is a major recreation area, the third largest artificial lake in the world. Excellent facilities for camping and picnicking are available at WIND CREEK PARK located on Lake Martin. Over 1200 campsites are provided along with swimming, boating, fishing, and sight seeing cruises.

Each Sunday impressive worship services are held here by Admiral Hobson from his trips to foreign countries. The incredibly beautiful mansion "GAINESWOOD," at Demopolis, incorporates the exceptional features of three classical orders of architecture, a mirrored hall, a ballroom, a dining and music room with domed ceilings, and a round, gallery bedroom. The round once seated musicians for elaborate garden parties.

Capitol today. Outside the massive doors, a bronze star marks the exact spot where Davis was inaugurated. Inside, the famous twin staircases lead to the state Senate Chamber.

This same marble-floored corridor takes you to the Governor's office, with its impressive crystal chandelier and its Gilbert Stuart portrait of Winthrop Sargent, the first Governor of the Mississippi Territory.

Across the street, you can enter the private home of the Jefferson Davis family. THE FIRST WHITE HOUSE OF THE CONFEDERACY, executive mansion though it was, still impresses you most as a family home. Pink-gowned Varina Howell Davis smiles at you from a portrait above a mantelpiece and her husband's worn carpet slippers are still underneath his tester bed.

Next door to the First White House, THE ARCHIVES AND HISTORY BUILDING holds a living history of your state. Alabama was the first state to establish an Archives Department.

A short drive along Solesberry Street and a few blocks east will show you interesting contrasts in architecture. THE GORRONS MANSION, the First Presbyterian Church, Montgomery's oldest—built in 1824—and St. Peter's Catholic Church, which dates from 1851.

THE TEAGUE HOUSE, now the headquarters of the Alabama State Chamber of Commerce, is one hundred seven years old. An example of Greek Revival antebellum architecture, the house has undergone no major structural changes.

Teague House was headquarters for Wilson's Raiders when they occupied Montgomery in 1865. From the front porch of this dwelling was read the telegraphic key—aware of his responsibility and awed by the possible effects of the message he had sent—and hastily punched out the message which was the "Southern History" message to fire on Fort Sumter.

It was in Montgomery that Alabama lawmakers cast their votes to secede from the Union. It was here that Jefferson Davis, leader of a new nation, rode the length of Dexter Avenue to the cadence of a new marching band—Davis.

It was here his family watched late at night to finally see the Capitol lights fade into darkness. Here he heard Davis' heavy footsteps on the stairs at home. It was here on a windy March afternoon in 1861 the Confederate Stars and Bars were proudly raised on the Capitol dome. ANDREW PAUL FELTS, President and General Manager of Felts Trailer and Equipment, Inc., of Dothan, Alabama, is shown as he received Certificate from Senator John Sparkman, as the Small Businessman of the Year for Alabama, awarded by the Small Business Administration, presented by Senator John Sparkman of Alabama, Felts is a major distributor of Dorsey Trailers.

Dorsey Distributor Gets Small Business Award

Andrew Paul Felts of Dothan was the proud recipient of the Small Businessman of the Year Award for Alabama made annually by the United States of America Small Business Administration, presented by Senator John Sparkman of Alabama, Felts is a major distributor of Dorsey Trailers.

In selecting the winner of this coveted award, Robert C. Moot, Administrator of Small Business Administration said that it was his feeling that Paul Felts exemplified stidly, graphically and abundantly the imagination, initiative, independence and integrity by which the American Small Businessman makes a vital contribution to the Nation, the economy and the free enterprise system.

Senator John Sparkman said that he was proud of Paul Felts and of all of the 44,000 small businessmen in Alabama, as well as the contributing factors which have evolved to influence the economic growth of Alabama. Sparkman further stated that he was particularly proud of the success enjoyed by Paul Felts, the winner of this award, Sparkman also said regional Director of the Birmingham Office said that Paul Felts is one of the most deserving award winners, in that he has carved his personal success from the solid rock of adversity and has with his personal integrity and unswerving determination overcome his obstacles and has built for himself an undeniable success.

Brunson further stated that the economic growth of Alabama is contingent upon the initiative of the leaders on the local level, such as Paul Felts, and that the Birmingham Small Business Administration Office has concentrated on the stimulating the economic growth of the state by holding "grass roots" seminars for small businessmen in all of the counties of the state of Alabama. Paul Felts has an as-

Disabled Widows Can Receive Monthly Benefits

"Disabled widows in this area may now receive monthly benefits based on their husbands' social security record," Harry N. Scott, District Manager of the Dothan Social Security Office, announced.

Mr. Scott said that the 1967 Amendments to the Social Security Act made major changes in the social security program. One of these changes now permits payment of monthly benefits to a widow who is unable to work because of a severe disability and whose husband had worked long enough under social security coverage.

To qualify, Mr. Scott stated, "the widow must be at least 50 years of age and have a physical or mental impairment that prevents her from doing any gainful work."

The amount of the benefit is related to the worker's earnings under social security. A disabled widow who begins receiving benefits before age 62 will receive a reduced benefit. The reduction depends on the age at the time the benefit starts.

Mr. Scott suggests that disabled widows who are between 50 and 60 years of age should contact the social security office to file a claim for social security benefits. The widow should bring evidence of her age, her marriage record, her social security number, and the social security number of her deceased husband. He stated that this information is needed in processing the claim.

The social security office serving this area is located in the Federal Building, 100 West Troy St., Dothan, Alabama. The telephone number is 794-3101. The office is open Monday through Friday from 8:45 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. For those who are unable to come in during the week, the office is also open on Saturdays from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon.

GI BILL EDUCATES THOUSANDS

The Post-Korean, or third generation, GI Bill education training program will begin its third year of operation on June 1, 1968.

During the past two years, more than 12,000 veterans and 126 servicemen entered training in Alabama under the Veterans' Readjustment Benefits Act of 1966. Neil R. Smart, Manager of the Montgomery Veterans Administration Regional Office said, "Nationally, more than 730,000 veterans and an additional 43,000 servicemen entered education and training in the first two years of the current GI Bill."

Smart explained, "Nearly two-thirds of all Post-Korean GI Bill students have entered college level training. By comparison, Smart said, only about half of the veterans who went to school under the Korean Conflict GI Bill entered institutions of higher learning. Less than one-third of the World War II veterans took college level training, he noted. Since June 1, 1966, more than 6,000 veterans and servicemen entered schools in Alabama below the college level. Of these, only 440 were veterans, days, part of which was after January 31, 1955, and service with at least two consecutive years of active duty.

Of the nearly 14,000 veterans and servicemen in Alabama who have taken advantage of Post-Korean GI Bill education and training benefits, more than 7300 entered institutions of higher learning, Smart explained.

In these totals, Smart explained, are veterans and servicemen currently entered in training in Alabama. A breakdown shows 2,980 veterans and 385 servicemen now entered in training in Alabama schools below the college level.

Smart explained that the Montgomery VA Regional Office Manager said that the Post-Korean GI Bill education and training program will begin its third year of operation on June 1, 1968.
